

RETAILER TOOLKIT

SINGLE USE PLASTICS

WHAT ARE SINGLE-USE PLASTICS?

Single-use plastics (SUPs) are plastic items designed to be used once or for a short period before being discarded.

Because SUPs are difficult to recycle and frequently end up as litter, the EU introduced legislation to reduce their production and environmental impact.

Certain SUP items are now banned from being placed on the Irish market.

For retailers, this means

- These products should not be stocked
- They should not be ordered from suppliers
- They should not appear in supplier catalogues
- Alternatives should be used

The following single-use products must NOT be placed on the market in Ireland.

- Plastic cutlery (forks, knives, spoons)
- Plastic chopsticks
- Plastic plates
- Plastic straws
- Plastic drink stirrers
- Plastic balloon sticks / rods
- Plastic cotton bud sticks
- Expanded polystyrene drinks containers*
- Expanded polystyrene food containers
- Oxo-degradable plastic products

* Expanded polystyrene is commonly known as foam or “Styrofoam” takeaway containers.

 Oxo-degradable plastics are conventional plastics containing additives that cause them to break into microplastics rather than biodegrade.
